

Weeping Women AWP Outline

The moderator will introduce herself and three panelists in the anthology. Additional contributors in the audience will be introduced. The moderator will describe the journey culminating in the anthology. Each of the three panelists will read briefly from their work. The moderator will then open discussion to the room at large with two or three questions along the lines of How does La Llorona fit into the context of other literature you have read? What does La Llorona mean to you personally?
